Old Business
Tire Recycling Steve Trahan reported LKQ tire recycling would most likely would be closing. An alternative tire recycling center would need to be found. It was estimated that the Transfer Station takes in approximately two dumpsters of tires per year. Possible solutions discussed were Empire Energy in Plainfield and Exeter Energy. The Transfer Station currently charges 50 cents per tire and the consensus was not to make the price too high for residents, as that would encourage more road side dumping of tires.
